

Editor's Note: Neurological Complications Due to the Use of Illicit Drugs: A Mini-Review

Luis Horta Clavero*

Neurosurgery Service, Baca Ortiz Pediatric Hospital, Quito, Ecuador

Corresponding Author: Luis Horta Clavero, Neurosurgery Service, Baca Ortiz Pediatric Hospital, Quito, Ecuador.

Received: November 10, 2017; Published: November 24, 2017

We consider that the mini review of the authors Olivia Gameiro de Souza, Marco Orsini, Bernardo Barcelos Fernandes Fumagalli Silva, Danilo Silva Sendem, Max Grossl Rodrigues, Jano Alves de Souza, Victor Hugo do Vale Bastos, Silmar Teixeira, Valecia Carvalho, Carla Ayres, Eduardo Trajano, Júlia Fernandes Eigenheer, Jessica Salem Eid and Thais Cristina de Faria Silva, on the neurological complications due to the use of illicit drugs, clearly and concisely addresses this issue, specifying the mechanism of action of each of the major drugs consumption, as well as the main effects on the central nervous system and on the neuropsychological status of those affected, thus constituting a quick reference guide of great importance, the same for medical or non-medical personnel, considering drug addiction a serious problem of the system of health in many countries, internationally.

Volume 9 Issue 1 November 2017

©All rights reserved by Luis Horta Clavero.